

PAPIN APPRAISAL INC.

Residential Real Estate Appraisal Services

In 2004 Papin Appraisal made an investment in an office building in the Bridgetown area. The purchase was to provide a long-term location from which to run the business. The problem was the office building had not been cared for over several years and substantial renovation was necessary.

After months of architectural work and several bids we decided to trust the project to Pat Illing's Affordable Contractors. Pat came highly recommended by one of my employees that a major home project completed by Pat in 2002.

The project consisted of splitting the single occupant building into 2 units, replacing the front facade, and renovating the interior.

Pat accomplished the 2 most important things you can ask for when you hire a general contractors. He kept the project on time, and he completed the project on budget. The best compliment I can pass on about Affordable Contractors is this: After our project was complete, we provided a key to Pat so he could enter the building whenever we need a project complete. It is not every general contractor that earns that kind of trust from his customers.

I can easily recommend Affordable Contractors!
